

Originally from Paris, Poggio has been clubbing all around the capital for 10 years., building a reputation on the French electronic scene. His tastes have developed into a style of his own, varying from saturated electro to tense techno, while retaining an 80's touch, which brings him back to his first Italo disco loves.

In love with music and always looking to find the latest gem, it is naturally that he set up his label Positive Future, which highlights the artists he likes. He is a generous man who likes to give when he is behind the booth and his energy is contagious.
